

Diving the Andamans with the Infiniti Live-aboard is listed in the top 20 India experiences

Leading global travel magazine Conde Nast Traveller has listed Diving the Andamans with the Infiniti Live-aboard as among the top 20 ways to experience India. They have made special note of Narcondam Island, the remote volcanic island in the Andamans , rich in life, and Infiniti Liveaboard's diving trips there. ¹

The Andaman Islands in the warm, tropical waters of the Indian Ocean are the world's new hot diving destinations. These islands in the bay of Bengal of the Andaman sea are among the last places in the world with a minimal human footprint. After a period of virtual isolation from the world, the Indian government now allows limited, environmentally conscious tourism s. Visiting the Andaman Islands really is a special adventure. Only 26 of these 576 islands are inhabited. Beneath the waves lie reefs barely touched and hardly seen by other divers.

Some of the best diving in the Andamans takes place at the volcanic islands Barren (active volcano) and Narcondam (remote volcano); as well as other uninhabited islands such as Passage Island, Sisters Island & Invisible banks. These islands are accessible mainly via a live-aboard.

The Infiniti Live-aboard is a pioneering scuba diving live-aboard in the Andamans, and it is delighting worldwide travellers with high quality dive trips at the best spots in the Andamans. Infiniti has attracted & hosted travellers from all over the world – including America, Europe, Australia, Asia & the Middle East.

The Infiniti is a brand new live-aboard fully equipped for a very comfortable onboard stay and cruising. It is a 39m live-aboard vessel with four decks, 8 guest rooms, lounges & a full onboard crew..

Sunil Bakshi, founder & CEO of the Infiniti Live-aboard said, " We are delighted to be listed among the top 20 list of India experiences for our journeys to remote islands in the Andamans. The diving here is incredible, especially at the remote Barren, Sisters, Narcondam Islands etc. We have encountered whales, Manta Rays, sharks, dugongs, dolphins, sting rays & more. "
